NON-FINAL OFFICE ACTION

1. Applicant's remarks filed 10/04/04 have been entered and carefully considered. Applicant's argument that the previous rejection does not show Cohen teaching Applicant's inner layer bound in face to face relationship to the first and second outer layers, is persuasive. The previously stated 35 USC 102(b) rejection is withdrawn. Despite this advance, the claims are still not found to patently distinguish the claimed invention over the Cohen reference, as stated below.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-2 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Cohen (5505719).

The Cohen reference teaches outer layers, and the second and third layers, in combination, are analogous to the inner layer claimed by Applicant. In other words, the second and third layers are essentially sublayers that in combination are equivalent to the claimed inner layer.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 3-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Cohen (5505719), as applied to claim 1 above.

While the Cohen reference is not concerned with the properties of claims 3-5, the invention is used in the same capacity as the claimed invention (as an absorbent composite) and is made of the same materials. It would therefore be obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to optimize the claimed properties. Absent a showing of criticality with respect to the claimed property values, no patentable distinction is seen between the claimed values and those common and useful in the art.
